

L. A. Teacher In Public Attack On Character Of Torrance High Student

One Los Angeles school teacher who resides outside of Torrance and who instructs at Torrance high school, took occasion to publicly denounce a 13-year-old high school boy at a meeting in the Perry school July 31 called as an open forum on the City Charter to be voted Aug. 20.

Venting her wrath against those seeking to withdraw the Torrance schools from the Los Angeles City school system, Mrs. L. F. Watson, the teacher degraded the young Torrance lad whom she had sent to the principal for mischievous conduct in her class, in a talk to the group of some 40 North Torrance residents assembled in the Perry school.

Her statement was cheered by Mrs. John Garner, who has been appointed by the Los Angeles school teachers association to lead the campaign to defeat the charter in Torrance.

Mrs. Watson, past president of the High School Parent-Teacher association, also claimed that the Los Angeles shoeing strip children would be taken to Lomita and Gardena schools rather than to Torrance on a contract basis after Torrance schools withdraw from Los Angeles. Her statement was a challenge to the members of the Charter Committee who had said that these children will continue to be taken to Torrance.

The question of where the North Torrance children now attending Los Angeles schools at Gardena and Moneta was also asked, and the Charter Committee members replied that if Los Angeles takes their children out of the Torrance schools and transports them to Gardena and Lomita, Torrance Board of Education will be required to take the North Torrance children out of the Gardena and Moneta schools and transport them to Torrance.

Perry district residents were told that the growth of that district soon will require a new school building, and that while they enjoy a small elementary school tax rate at this time, it would be necessary to increase it materially under a new construction program.

It was explained that the unification of the Perry district with Redondo Beach, Hermosa Beach and Manhattan Beach, un-

Survivor Of "Death March" Recruits Here

Sergeant Charles L. Stewart, veteran of the five-day infamous "death march" from Bataan, is the new recruiting sergeant stationed at the Torrance post office. Stewart, who served also at the war crimes trial in Manila, where Japanese Generals Yamashita and Homma were found guilty of war atrocities, will remain here during the absence of Cpl. Michael J. Campbell, who is on leave in the east.

In referring to the 102-mile "march of death" without food or water, the sergeant made plain that he had the pleasure of seeing Homma executed before a firing squad and Yamashita hanged.

He is a resident of Long Beach and attended junior college there prior to enlisting in the Army in 1941. He returned to the United States from Manila last April after five years of absence. The 25-year-old sergeant was held a prisoner in Japan for three and one-half years.

Group Asks 'Yes' Vote On Charter; Split On Bonds

While recommending an emphatic "Yes" vote on the City Charter-Schools issue at the August 20 municipal election, directors of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting Monday noon went on record as opposed to all the $1,550,000 municipal bond issues excepting Propositions No. 3 and No. 7, totaling only $165,000.

Proposition No. 3, to provide $125,000 for construction of new fire stations, and Proposition No. 7, to lay a $40,000 water main so that residents of the Hollywood Riviera section of the city may use water from the Metropolitan (Colorado River) Water District, were the only two bond propositions endorsed by the Chamber directors.

Attending the Chamber meeting were a number of substantial property holders, who urged the negative action on the bonds. In addition to the Chamber directors, those present included: F. J. Carpenter, W. L. Lundquist, Sam Levy, Jack Koch, Bob L. Haggard, F. G.

Dominguez, Wm. H. Bratton, B. C. Buxton, Leslie Alter, Albert Isen and Chas. T. Rippey.

It was the opinion of those present that the swimming pool and certain other phases of the recreation program such as the arts and crafts building, while highly desirable, should more properly be built and operated under the school system. This would be possible, it was pointed out, when Torrance adopts a charter and takes over its own schools, thus eliminating duplicating facilities. Favorable sentiment for the stadium at the Municipal park also was indicated, but it was the opinion of those present at the meeting that this project and other desirable items should be submitted separately at a later election, perhaps in November. It was repeatedly emphasized at the gathering that a city with an assessed valuation of nearly $30,000,000, like Torrance, should be able to finance many of the proposed improvements submitted under the bond issues on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. Reference was frequently made to the analysis of the proposed bond issues prepared by the California Taxpayers Association. Following the Chamber meeting, a Citizens Committee was organized to publicize the recommendation. Albert Isen, attorney, was chosen chairman of the Citizens group; Chas. T. Rippey, treasurer, and Leslie Alter, secretary.

COMPLAINTS ON REFUSE TO BE AIRED AT MEET

The City Council has asked the city engineer, fire department and police department to participate in the parley.
